low-dose aspirin increases by twofold the risk of ugi in the general population and its coating does not modify the effect.